Outreach Regarding Russia and Ukraine

UNIVERSITY OF
SOUTH FLORIDA
USF Watch

Over the past several weeks, the world has been witness to an unfolding tragedy that has shocked and saddened us all. The University of South Florida is closely monitoring the most recent developments that have occurred in Ukraine and is committed to providing support and resources to our community members who may be affected by this international crisis in different ways. Whether you are a student, faculty, staff, or a community partner, we understand that we all process events differently. If you are concerned about this most recent event or violence in our world, or if you have been personally affected in any way by recent events, then there are resources available within the University.
